Chaplain's letter

It has been eight years since the Catholic Student Network in the North of Thailand was established. This network covers six provinces in the northern part of Thailand: Chiang Mai, Phayao, Chiang Rai, Mae Hong Son, Lampang, and Lamphun. Most students in this network are from ethnic groups such as the Karen, Hmong, Akha, Thai Yay, etc., and low-income families.

Not all the members of this network are Catholic. Many are Buddhist, other Christian denominations, animists, and Islam. But they would like to join our network because they find programs and activities can enrich their physical and spiritual life experiences and build new friendships.

Fr. Dzung Pham, S.J.
Chaplain of Catholic Students in the North of Thailand

This new academic year, we have eight projects or activities for students. Each project relates to each part of the student's life, such as new beginning [Opening Mass], spiritual life [Retreat on the Way], physical activities [Sports' Day], charitable sharing [Children's Day], and learning and building international friendships [Cultural Exchange Program].

However, we are very limited in terms of finance. We need support from generous people in order to make all the projects come true. We offer everything in the Providence of God. May God bless each of us and those who support us in any way!
